

Chen-Ling Hung's Publications

● Journal Articles

1. Hung, C. (2015). Covering Postdisaster Reconstruction in an Indigenous Village: Cross-Ethnicity and Cross-Sector Cooperation and Empowerment. Chinese Journal of Communication Research, 28: 195 – 234.
2. Hung, C. (2013). Minority communication rights in the digital age: A case study of Taiwan indigenous citizen journalism platform WATTA. Communication & Society, 25:135-171.
3. Hung, C. (2013). Media Control and Democratic Transition: Ongoing Threat to Press Freedom in Taiwan. Chinese Media Research, 9(2): 83-93. (English Journal)
4. Hung, C. (2013). Regulation on media ownership concentration: Two US cases and their implications. Journal of Communication Research and Practice, 3(2):113-139.
5. Hung, C. (2012). Indigenous digital archive and local participation: Taking cultural reservation in Chiahxing Tribe as an example. Journal of Indigenous Peoples' Culture Communication, 2: 22-39.
6. Yeo, B. and Hung, C. (2011). The economic value of ICTs: An empirical analysis of metropolitan regions. Business Administration and Management, Vol. 1(4), pp.114-122. (English Journal)
7. Hung, C. (2011). Yu Hong, Labor, Class Formation, and China's Informationized Policy of Economic Development (Book Review). Journal of Information Policy. Volumn 1. (English Journal)
8. Hung, C. (2011). The boundry of government campaign: Learning from US regulation. Chinese Journal of Communication Research, 20: 2 -23.
9. Hung, C. (2010). The origin and development of Thai Public Broadcasting Service. Mass Communication Research, 102: 295-325.
10. Hung, C. (2009). The reflection on judiciary news reporting. Taiwan Bar Journal, 13(9): 46-54.
11. Hung, C., Liao, Y. and Lin, F. (2008). The domestication and tabloidization of international news: How Taiwan's newspapers cover the WTO meeting in Hong Kong. Chinese Journal of Communication Research, 14: 77-114.
12. Hung, C. (2008). When remote communities meet new technology: How social capital works in the operation of the Digital Opportunity Centers in Chichi earthquake disaster area. Mass Communication Research, 95: 145-182.

13. Hung, C. (2007). Freedom of information and mass media: Reconsidering state secrets. RDEC Bimonthly, 31(3): 61-70.
14. Lo, S., Kuang, C. Hung, C. and Cheng, K. (2006). Watching the media regulator NCC in Taiwan. Chinese Journal of Communication Research, 10: 55-85.
15. Hung, C. and Liu, C. (2006). The commercial broadcasting regulation. Chinese Journal of Communication Research, 10: 27-53.
16. Hung, C. (2006). Whose media? Whose freedom of speech? The right of access to media in post-martial law era. Taiwan Democracy Quarterly, 3(4): 1-36.
17. Hung, C. (2006). State regulation and the freedom of speech: A review of the renewal of satellite TV license. Journal of Radio & Television Studies, 26: 51-75.
18. Hung, C. and Liu, C. (2003). The global public sphere and its practice in the Internet. Journal of Cyber Culture and Information Society, 6: 341-364.

● Book Chapters (Published in Chinese unless noted)

1. Hung, C. (2015). Citizen Journalism in Taiwan: A Case Study of an Online Platform PeoPo. In G. Rawnsley and M. Rawnsley (Eds.). The Routledge Handbook of Chinese Media. pp. 161-177. London: Routledge. (English)
2. Hung, C. (2015). Turning rage to hope: New media practice and its meaning in the movement of Anti Cross-Strait Service Trade Agreement. In Hung, C. (Ed.). Sunflower Movement, new citizenry and new media. pp. 16-35. Taipei: Locus Publishing.
3. Hung, C. (2013). Indigenous digital archive and local participation: Taking cultural reservation in Chiahxing Tribe as an example. In Lo, S (Ed.). Citizen digital archive: Theory x Practice x Rethinking. pp. 55-91. Taipei: National Science Project of Digital Archive and Learning.
4. Hung, C., Liu, C. and Tang, S. (2012). Content regulation on commercial media: From state authority to social co-regulation. In Liu, C. (Ed.). Reflection and reconstruction of communication policy. Pp.113-146. Taipei: Chuliu Publisher.
5. Hung, C. (2009). The evolution and regulation of Taiwan's terrestrial broadcasting television. The Foundation for Excellence Journalism Award (ed.). Reconstruction of Taiwan media: Rebuilding new media order. Pp.77-102. Taipei: Chuliu Publisher.

6. Hung, C. (2008). Suggestions on Taiwan's broadcasting media policy. In Lee, S.etc. NTU Essays on expectation for the new government. pp.279-288. Taipei: NTU Press.

● Conference Papers

1. Hung, C. (2015). Using social media as alternative journalistic practice: News E Forum during the Sunflower Movement in Taiwan. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 12-16, 2015, Montreal, Canada.
2. Hung, C. (2014). Broadband adoption and low income community: The KEYSPOt project in Philadelphia. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 15-19, 2014, Hyderabad, India.
3. Hung, C. (2013). Bridging the age divide of broadband service: A case study of the San Francisco Connected Project. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, June 25-29, 2013, Dublin, Ireland.
4. Hung, C. (2013). Participation and Empowerment: Indigenous citizen reporters, their identity and perception of news. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, June 25-29, 2013, Dublin, Ireland.
5. Hung, C., Chiu, Y., Hung, H, and Liang, T. (2012). Taking back the rights of telling our culture: An analysis on indigenous news stories. June26-27, 2012. Indigenous journalism and communication conference, Taipei: National Taiwan University.
6. Hung, C. (2012). Minority communication rights in the digital age: A case study of indigenous citizen journalism in Taiwan. International Conference on Redefining News and Audience. January 6-7, 2012.Hong Kong : Chinese University in Hong Kong.
7. Hung, C. and Liu, C. (2010). Public media, online journalism and citizen participation: The practice of citizen journalism in Taiwanese public media service. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 17-22, 2010, Braga, Portugal.
8. Hung, C., Lu, C. and Yeo, B. (2010). Telecommunications Reform and Network Expansion : Lessons from APEC Countries. Presented at 2010 conference of International Communications Association, June 22-26, Singapore.

9. Hung, C. and Liu, C. (2009). The more, the better?!--The political economy of media liberalization and regulation in a transitional democracy. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 20-24, 2009, Mexico City, Mexico.
10. Hung, C. (2009). Preserving culture through ICT access and community
  - i. participation: Observation on the digital archive project of an aboriginal tribe in Taiwan. Paper presented at the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 20-24, 2009, Mexico City, Mexico.
11. Hung, C. (2008). Media control and democratic transition: The Taiwanese case. Paper presented at International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 20-25, 2008, Stockholm, Sweden.
12. Hung, C. (2007). Intellectuals and their social practice: A case study of the Campaign for Media Reform in Taiwan. Paper prepared at Union for Democratic Communication annual meeting, October 25-26, 2007. Vancouver, Canada
13. Hung, C. (2007). Participation, Community building and the digital divide: A case study of the Digital Opportunity Center in rural Taiwan. Paper presented at International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 22-25, 2007, Paris, France.
14. Hung, C. (2007). Cooperation and empowerment: An exploratory investigation of bringing ICTs to aboriginal communities in Taiwan. Paper presented at International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual meeting, July 22-25, 2007, Paris, France.
15. Hung, C. and Wei, T. (2006). Media reform in Taiwan: A critical review of the withdrawal of government shareholdings in electronic media. Paper presented at IAMCR annual meeting, July 23-28, 2006, Cairo, Egypt.
16. Hung, C. (2005). The political economy of telecommunications liberalization in Taiwan--A case study of the opening-up of fixed-network telecom service. Paper presented at IAMCR annual meeting, July 25-28, 2005, Taipei, Taiwan.
17. Hung, C. (2004). State, market and information control-- Internet policy in China. Presented at 2004 conference of International Communications Association, May 26-30, New Orleans, LA.
18. Hung, C. (2003). Unequal development—the digital divide in Taiwan. Presented at North American Taiwan Studies Association annual conference, June 19-21, Rutgers University, NJ. (in Chinese)
19. Hung, C. (2003). Income, education, location and the Internet--The digital divide in China. Presented at 2003 conference of International Communications Association, May 23-27, San Diego, CA.

20. Hung, C. (2003). Telecommunications liberalization and network expansion--The experiences of APEC countries. Presented at 2003 conference of International Communications Association, May 23-27, San Diego, CA.
21. Hung, C. (2003). Does telecommunications liberalization contribute to efficiency? Lessons from the APEC countries. Presented at 2003 conference of Pacific Telecommunications Council, January 11-15, Honolulu.
22. Hung, C. and Liu, C. (2002), The global public sphere and its practice in the Internet. 2002 Conference of International Communications, December 6-7, Tamkang University, Taipei. (in Chinese)
23. Hung, C. (2002). The Internet and the public sphere: A hope of democracy or an illusion? Presented at 2002 conference of Union for Democratic Communications, October 11-13, State College, PA.